Council of International Investigators

Introducing the Council of International Investigators (C.I.I)

Introduction

The C.I.I was established in 1955 by a group of well-known and highly respected private investigators gathered informally in Chicago, Illinois. The purpose of the meeting was to consider the formation of a close-knit organization that the attendees could trust to handle investigatory matters in their respective local areas.

As the existence of our professional group became known, because of our high standards of integrity, ethics, and mutual trust, many other private investigators sought to be accepted into what was then referred to as 'The Council'.

Our original group expanded its membership and worldwide coverage through careful selective screening of applicants.

Membership

Over half a century on and to date, the C.I.I has over 400 carefully selected established and well-respected professional investigators from 70 countries, with 42 new members from 18 different countries accepted in 2018.

Each C.I.I investigator meets strict membership criteria in line with our aim of maintaining the highest quality professionals within the industry, adhering to strict code of ethics met with universal approval by public law enforcement agencies, legislatures, and public officials. The C.I.I have achieved a position within the private investigation business, and before the public, as the spokesperson for ethical private investigators throughout the world.

Certified membership of the Council of International Investigators confers a level of distinction and prestige to those members who meet the strict criteria set for this type of member.

The focus of the C.I.I is on quality of its members and not quantity.

Code of Ethics & Suzzess

The adoption of, and strict adherence to, the Council of International Investigators' Code of Ethics has met with universal approval by public law enforcement agencies, legislatures, and public officials.

Yosh Wong of Suzzess obtained his Certified Membership of the C.I.I in 2011. Since the Private Investigations industry in Hong Kong is not licensed, Suzzess has chosen the Council's strict Code of Ethics and adopted the same whilst undertaking investigations.

Yosh Wong was formally appointed Regional Director for the Far East Region in October 2018 and is responsible for the promotion of the C.I.I in the Far East Region, vetting of any new members and advising the Board of any significant legislative or licensing changes in the region.

Over the years, Yosh had actively participated in many C.I.I events, attending the AGMs in New Delhi (2015), Gothenburg (2016), Hong Kong (2018) and also the Regional Meetings in Jakarta (2015) and Singapore in conjunction with Securex (2017).
